Our City Comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

Airport to
Be Squared
Before Voters
on April 10

ON Tuesday, April 10, the voters of Glendale are going to decide as to whether or not they want to purchase a municipal airplane flying field.

That you may know all phases of this airport we have gone into the subject carefully and secured from the city manager full details which we give for your information.

The plot of ground which is to be voted on is located near Grandview avenue and San Fernando road. It consists of 33 acres and adjoins on the north fourteen acres of land already owned by the city.

If this land is purchased it is proposed to use the land now owned by the city, as well as this 33 acres, for the purpose of providing a public flying field and in addition furnish land for commercial or factory purposes.

By continuing Grandview avenue across San Fernando road the property will be bounded on all sides with roads which will give all four sides of property street frontages.

It is proposed to divide the ground into sections, holding the different sections for the several purposes, one section to be used for general factory space, one for manufacturing of airplanes, another for the manufacturing of airplane hangers and one for private hangars.

The proposed rental will be a basis of approximately $3.00 per front foot per year. If the entire space, with the exception of the landing field, should be rented on this basis there would be an income of approximately $14,400 per annum. At the present time reservations have been spoken for which would bring an income of $3395 per year as follows:

COMMERCIAL HANGARS
West Aircraft Co., 200 feet.....$600.00
Kinner Aeroplane Co., 100 feet.....300.00
Belcher Aerial Mfg. Co., 200 feet.....450.00
Hardy Airline, 100 feet.....300.00
Western Aircraft, 100 feet.....300.00

PRIVATE HANGARS
Dr. T. C. Young, 50 feet.....150.00
K. J. Crawford, 50 feet.....150.00
Judge Channing Follett, 25 feet.....75.00
Reynolds, 25 feet.....75.00
Lt. Alvin W. Makepiece, 50 feet.....150.00
Total.....$3395.00

ON a basis of publicity for Glendale and as a business proposition there is little doubt that the airport proposition is a good thing. This belief is shared by a good many of the business interests as the airport proposition has the endorsement of most of the civic and business men's clubs of the city.

We ourselves have never questioned the buy from either of these standpoints, but we have absolutely been against the way the proposition was handled.

WE DO not now or ever will think any city council should have the authority to purchase land without letting the voters pass on it. Since the latter course, the matter should be voted on according to its merits and we would recommend the proposition as beneficial to Glendale and worthy of the support of our voters.

Aside from the airport, the city officials advise that the ground has value as water bearing, and with the continued growth of Glendale would be needed for the water department uses.

ATTENDANCE AT NOON DAY MEETING IN THE GLENDAL INCREASES

Nearly Eight Hundred Persons Drop in for Inspiration at the Pre-Easter Services Held Under Auspices of United Ministers of City

DR. HERBERT BOOTH SMITH IS THE SPEAKER

Good Music, Shadows, and the Feeling of Being Away From the Glare of Sunshine Wins Appreciation of Business Section's Population

The noonday service at the Glendale theatre was largely attended yesterday. Seven or eight hundred people came out to hear Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher. Dr. Brougher was sick and sent in his place Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, who spoke on Christian service as illustrated by the story of Christ in the home of Martha and Mary in Bethany. Dr. Smith brought a very helpful message and a very timely one.

"We need Marthas for our bodies and the care of our homes and to keep the wheels of industry oiled," said Dr. Smith, "but in the rushing, noisy congested days we need to go with Mary into the quiet place of prayer and meditation at the Master's feet."

The services of yesterday in the beautiful room, away from the noonday glare of the sun, and in the quiet place, with the soft strains of the organ, as played by Paul Carson, was an illustration of the thought of Dr. Smith. Park Arnold led the musical singing, as a special musical number, Mrs. Paul Elliott of the Baptist Church, sang a beautiful Easter solo. The services are proving popular and most helpful to the large number who are attending.

K. OF P. HOLD BIG MEETING AT THE CASTLE

Will Seek to Enroll Those Affiliated With Out of Town Lodges

The Knights of Pythias held a very rousing meeting at their hall at the corner of Park and Brand, at which several out-of-the-city visiting Knights were present.

The lodge is busily engaged in a building program and the building committee is very active in selecting a site and preparations for the building of a castle hall within the next year.

The meeting was very interesting from the point of the membership of several new applications being presented and quite a number of present non-affiliated members presented their cards.

The entertainment committee is making preparations for the next entertainment to be held on the fourth Tuesday of April.

It has been conservatively estimated that there are in Glendale about 1500 Knights who are residents of the city and are still continuing their affiliation with the old home lodge to get into touch and communication with each and every non-affiliated visiting Knight in the city for the purpose of extending to the man invitation to visit the lodge here and also to attend the regular social entertainments. For that purpose there have been placed at the office of Charles B. Guthrie, at 110 West Broadway, Glendale, a register and every Knight in Glendale who is not now registered in the Glendale lodge is requested to call upon Brother Guthrie and register, so that the lodge and its entertainment committee can send them regularly invitations to all the affairs and pleasure of attending the conventions of the lodge.

Another interesting feature of the meeting last night was the getting together of the committee on American Citizenship Contest, which Attorney Bert P. Woodard is chairman and the following brothers:

Frank Peters, Attorney A. H. Davis, Charles B. Guthrie, Fred Deal, Attorney G. H. King and Dr. Wm. C. Mabry.

The lodge has made preparations to award certain prizes in this to the scholars of our schools in this contest.

GLENDAL AVE. PAVING
The pavement committee of the Glendale Advancement association, composed of owners of property on Glendale avenue, are touring near by cities today, looking at paving for Glendale avenue.

The committee left the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway at 7:30 o'clock this morning and will return sometime this afternoon.

FRED HILL HOME ROBBED
Mrs. Fred Hill, 112 1/2 South Orange street, reported to the Glendale police that her home was robbed Monday night. The theft was reported at 2:45 yesterday afternoon. The case has been turned over to Officers Royle and Simons.

SPOT LIGHT STOLEN
A spot light was stolen from the machine belonging to Mr. Sutherland, 1200 South Boynton street, while the car was standing in front of his home at about 9:30 o'clock last night. Up to this time the missing article has not been found.

Policeman Detailed To Lay Spooks About The Walker Residence

Beware of the spooks! They may get you if you don't watch out! Mrs. B. W. Walker, 112 East Lomita, reported to the Glendale police department yesterday, that for several nights mysterious knocks have been heard on the door of her home. When she opens the door the space beyond is vacant, except for air.

Mrs. Walker is perplexed. She doesn't know what to think of it all. The police department has promised to go out as much as possible. But if they really are ghosts what can a poor copper do?

A sign in the heavens! Did you see it last night? As the dusk of the evening crept over the valley many people were excited at the appearance of a light in the form of a cross which was seen in the sky last night. Seeing, they paused to wonder, and wondering, they began to remember that Easter was approaching and with it the Easter sunrise services which will be held at the top of Mount Forest Lawn at 5:40 o'clock Sunday morning, the location of the place of service being marked by a 20-foot, electrically lighted cross.

CROSS RISES OVER GLENDAL IN DUSK OF EVENING

It was presented by Madame Genevra Johnstone-Bishop, who was assisted by Ernest Morrison, tenor; Edna Maximilian, contralto; and Gladys White, soprano, their repertoire including "Ave Maria," "I Shall Feed His Flock," "Come Unto Me," and "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth."

Members have long been unable to make use of their guest tickets because of the limited accommodations of the Masonic temple. This was an opportunity of which many availed themselves.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell presided and several interesting reports were made. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of ways and means, and first vice-president, presenting to the treasurer, Mrs. Plaster, a check for $400, which represented returns from the club luncheon and commissions on the preserved fruits manufactured in Pasadena and exhibited at the luncheon, also proceeds from chain parties given by several members who had intended to give them last summer and were prevented from doing so.

A strong plea was made for additional purchases of chairs for the auditorium by Mrs. C. E. Houston, who has the matter in charge, as another payment on these furnishings is soon due and is an immediate item on the new club house.

Four hundred and fifty have already been sold at $5 each, and 300 yet remain to be sold. Mrs. Houston urged all who contemplated making such purchases and having their names inscribed on the chairs, to do so without delay.

A beautiful gold candelabra which had been presented to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Roundtree, parents of Mrs. F. S. Card of Glendale, by the members of the W. R. C. of Galesburg, Illinois, at the Roundtree's golden wedding celebration, was the gift which was presented to the Tuesday Afternoon club by Mrs. Card yesterday. The candelabra has a cupid statue holding a gold frame, with room for five candles, and is a very beautiful ornament.

Under a warrant issued by Judge Crawford of Burbank, police officers of that city this morning raided a still which had been discovered at Lake and Alameda streets and which was in full operation at the time, so it could be heard from the highway. The still had a capacity of 100 gallons and there were nine barrels of mash which together with the still and the alcohol were taken to the city hall to be used in evidence when the case is tried before Judge Crawford. The men who were operating the still were Sam Friedman, Joe Goldberg, and Jack and John Smith, father and son.

MILLION DOLLAR FILM STAGE IS PROPOSED
[By Associated Press]
HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 28.—Plans for construction of a million dollar theatre for stage productions are nearing completion here today by Joseph Schenck, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Sid Grauman, it became known today.

A site for the project is being sought here. Representatives of the group announced that the presence of a great number of prominent legitimate stage actors now affiliated with the screen, coupled with the need in Los Angeles district for first-class legitimate production theatre presented an opportunity which would be met at once.

The purpose is, it was announced, to present plays with casts from the actors in the motion picture colony here, as well as to show some of the leading travelling productions.

PINCHOUT OUT TO PINCHOUT SALOONS
[By Associated Press]
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 28.—Governor Pinchot tonight signed the administration prohibition enforcement bill. It became effective under the provisions of the new law the governor said, saloons in Pennsylvania would be driven out of business.

The measure defines intoxicating liquor as found and determined from time to time to be intoxicating, by act of Congress. It carries a drastic "search and seizure section" and prohibits advertising, possession and sale of any contrivance, tablet or formula designed for use in the unlawful manufacture of intoxicants.

TIDAL WAVE SUBMERGED THE CHILEAN PESO, SAYS HE
[By Associated Press]
SEATTLE, Wash., March 28.—Not the usual economic factors, but tidal waves cause the rising and falling of the Chilean dollar, the peso, according to Captain Louis Larson, who was at Iquique in command of the schooner Fearless last November at a time of violent earthquakes.

"There are about twenty earthquakes a month on the Chilean coast," related Captain Larson, "but most of them are harmless. When there is a tidal wave the value of the money falls, and when the damage is pretty well repaired the peso goes up again."

TUESDAY CLUB HAS EASTER MOTIF

Mrs. Johnstone-Bishop Lectures on Oberammergau Passion Play

An audience which filled the handsome auditorium of the new club house of the Tuesday Afternoon club, came out Tuesday to enjoy the first regular afternoon program given in the new home. It was a program most suitable for the season, a lecture recital on the Passion Play of Oberammergau, illustrated by slides, and accompanied by musical numbers contributed by well-known artists.

It was presented by Madame Genevra Johnstone-Bishop, who was assisted by Ernest Morrison, tenor; Edna Maximilian, contralto; and Gladys White, soprano, their repertoire including "Ave Maria," "I Shall Feed His Flock," "Come Unto Me," and "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth."

DANIELS NOW FACES TRIAL FOR KILLING

Is Held on Manslaughter Charge for Killing Mrs. Charles Aker

SUIT FOR DAMAGES
Youth and Sister Are Defendants in Action for $25,000

Alfred Daniels, who was held yesterday to appear before the Superior Court on a charge of manslaughter, has been, with his sister, Viora Daniels, a movie actress, made co-defendant in a $25,000 damage suit filed yesterday in the Superior Court by Charles E. Akers of Glendale.

This suit comes as a direct result of an accident which occurred on February 25 at the intersection of Tenth street and Raymond avenue, this city. The plaintiff's wife, Mrs. Patience Akers, sustained injuries in this accident which resulted in her death a few days later.

It is stated in the complaint that when Mrs. Akers, her children, Edith L. and Mary P., were riding in their automobile a large machine driven by Alfred Daniels, at a speed of approximately 50 miles an hour, struck the Akers car. Mrs. Akers was thrown to the pavement so as to injure her fatally.

The hearing at which Alfred R. Daniels was bound over to the Superior Court was held in Judge Lowe's court yesterday. The trial of Mr. Daniels will take place within two and three months from yesterday's preliminary hearing.

$5,000,000 CIVIC CENTER PLANNED FOR PASADENA
[By Associated Press]
PASADENA, March 28.—Plans that will call for between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 for the creation of a civic center, art center, municipal auditorium, new city hall and library, were disclosed last evening by members of the city planning commission at a banquet arranged by the chamber of commerce.

The plans call for the cutting through and widening Holly street through the heart of the city, paralleling the main thoroughfare of the city, Colorado street, the erection of an art center on the main thoroughfare of the city, which was purchased by the late L. V. Rockefeller never took over.

A large city hall to take care of the increasing business of the city, an auditorium and a large library are located in the very center of the rapidly growing sections of the city.

Condemnation proceedings for property which it will be necessary to secure in order to put the project into operation, are already under way.

One of the big features of the plan is the cutting through of Garfield avenue from Colorado street to Green street, in the very center of the city. This will entail a tremendous expense.

EAGLE ROCK VOTES TO ANNEX BY SMALL MARGIN OF TOTAL VOTE OF CITY

Out of Approximately 2000 Registered Voters, 1107 Register Their Preference for Consolidation, While 810 Are Counted Against It

MAJORITY OF 297 IS SHOWN IN ELECTION

Story of the Fight, Precinct by Precinct Is Graphically Told; No. 5 Turns in Big Total Against the Measure, But All in Vain

The city of Eagle Rock voted to become a part of Los Angeles by a big majority yesterday. The polls closed at 7 o'clock and the votes in all five precincts were counted by 9:30.

A total of 1917 votes were cast. This is the largest number of votes ever cast for any issue in Eagle Rock. Of these, 1107 ballots were marked in favor of annexation and 810 against it. So the pro-consolidation forces won out with a majority of 297 votes.

Precinct by precinct the returns were phoned in to the city hall. When precinct 5 came in, favoring the "antis," their hopes, which were almost shattered upon hearing the verdict of the city hall precinct judges, rose again. But with districts 3 and 4 accounted for, a general disheartened look prevailed on more than one enthusiastic "anti's" countenance.

Before precinct 2 had been definitely announced the pro-consolidationists had a parade in action that rivaled any Halloween or circus day celebration.

Cowbells, sirens, whistles, shouting, backing of machines and even an orchestra joined in the melee of noisemaking, echoing and re-echoing down the valley. About fifty machines were in the line of parade within a few minutes after its start.

The individual returns of the five precincts were as follows: Precinct 1, in the public library—Yes, 220; no, 162; a total of 382, with a 58 majority for yes.

Precinct 2, 131 South Central avenue—Yes, 253; no, 176; a total of 429, with a majority of 77 for yes.

Precinct 3, lobby of the Central school—Yes, 186; no, 124; a total of 310 votes, with a 62 majority for yes.

Precinct 4, lobby of the city hall—Yes, 285; no, 165; a total of 450 votes, with a 120 majority for yes.

Precinct 5, 804 East Colorado boulevard—Yes, 163; no, 133; a total vote of 340 votes, with a majority of 20 for no.

So the wedding of Miss Eagle Rock and Los Angeles was solemnized last night at 9:30, amid much shouting, blowing of whistles, paying of lost bets and argument as to whether the "best man" won. Nothing in the history of Eagle Rock has occasioned so much enthusiasm, genuine excitement, thrills, betting, argument and noise. Many a crumpled pocketbook lies in the citizens' pockets today, for there were bets being quietly, and not so quietly, placed among the groups of men who collected and debated all along the main block on Central avenue, below Colorado, yesterday. Many a reluctant fist went deep into the trousers' pocket to "pay up."

Throughout the day feeling seemed to rest with the pro-consolidation faction, but the unofficial statements by both sides showed an optimistic spirit reigning in both camps of battle. Annexationists said, "We will annex by about 65 per cent." Anti-annexationists stated, "We will carry at least three precincts." And the nearer the hour approached for the counting of the final votes, the more agitated the winning side became. When the decision was reached, people clapped each other on the back and shouted, "I told you so!" and "I knew it all the time!" and their optimism, which had prevailed throughout the day, reached its climax in the big spree of voluntary, jovial good nature and ruck.

The polls closed at 7 p. m. so the business men who took early trains into Los Angeles and could not get the ham and eggs downed and the collar and tie arranged, and all the other morning ritual attended to in time to appear at the polls yesterday morning. Hired up at their stations late in the hours of voting and had their little say, and later groups crowded into the city hall, or stood about the streets until the word was brought out to them. There seemed to be almost as many women in the crowds as men.

And many people were deprived of their vote who would like to have taken a definite stand on the question. Many of these were newcomers, but some were merely in ignorance of registration rules. One elderly lady of Irish volubility stamped into the city hall precinct during the day and announced that she wanted "to get out of this Eagle Rock." She was instructed to look up her name and number on the list. But after some time she presented herself again before the board and emphatically insisted that she wanted her vote with no red tape hitched to it, and she only wished that she had fifteen more like it. It came out that she "never knew anyone had to sign up to vote."

At the Central precinct one old man appeared who was well past the proverbial three score and ten. He announced that he had "mighty few more votes to cast before he would be called to a place of higher jurisdiction, but I am glad to be here to cast a vote on this question," and this incident is representative of the feeling that pervaded the whole city. No one wanted to be deprived of a vote.

And now that the sarcophagus of the dead ballots is closed and locked and set away to become ancient history, there will be many changes in Eagle Rock. City officials will be out of office in from 20 to 40 days, as soon as Sacramento has passed jurisdiction on the measure.

Neighbors are speaking again, or will be in the course of time, and once again life in Eagle Rock settles back to the peaceful routine of daily duties.

Those who have given all their time and energy to bringing this issue to its present consummation can now rest and watch results that follow Eagle Rock has done her part to make the election worth while and it is now up to Los Angeles to prove, a "good provider" for the new bride. Many "relatives" of Miss Eagle Rock look askance, with dissatisfaction and question in their eyes, but all sit quietly back now that the knot for "civic betterment" is tied.

And today Miss Eagle Rock, after one of the most hilarious fights in her existence, is the "blushing bride" of Los Angeles. And many tears are still being shed quietly.

EX-SERVICE MEN CALLED TO FIELD

C. OF C. URGES CAUTION IN BUS LINE FRANCHISE

Urges Council to Investigate Financial Resources of Applicants

That the Glendale council be requested to grant no franchises for bus lines in this city without first investigating the matter thoroughly and ascertaining the financial ability of the companies requesting such franchises, and without taking into consideration the best interests of the city as a whole was decided upon by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at the regular meeting held in the chamber's auditorium Tuesday noon.

A motion to this effect was made by Director Kitterman, and grew out of the bus line discussion in general. Godfrey Edwards, of the firm of Edwards & Wilkey, was presented, and talked on "Bus Lines from the Subdivider's Standpoint." He supported the application of the Pacific Electric for a franchise to extend its present bus lines.

Mr. Edwards was supported by Roy L. Kent who declared that the Pacific Electric should be considered in this matter of granting franchises. That company had done more for Glendale than any other agency, he said. No company should be granted a franchise until it was a certainty that that concern could furnish transportation after the franchise was given.

Several other members including L. H. Wilson, S. S. Gilhuly, Mr. Kitterman and Dan Campbell, spoke on the bus line proposition. F. J. Hayselden, chairman of the committee appointed to work for the widening of Glendale boulevard, reported a meeting he and his committee had attended of the Biltmore Improvement association in Los Angeles. He stated that "all hands" were in favor of widening and improving Glendale boulevard from Los Angeles to Glendale.

George Karr, chairman of the civics committee, suggested that the Glendale chamber of commerce cooperate with the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley and the chambers of the third, fourth and fifth superior districts in the work of securing improvements for this section.

Two letters with reference to the proposed annual cleanup day for Glendale, presented by the civics committee, were, on motion of George Bentley, ordered sent to the Glendale city council.

It was reported by Peter Perry, chairman of the railway committee, that his committee had appointed to meet with Mr. Pontius, general passenger agent of the Pacific Electric company on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

It was announced that Mr. Baer of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce would speak before the Glendale chamber at an early date. George Karr and W. E. Hewitt were appointed as a committee to take up the matter of the tourists' hotel on San Fernando road, with power to act.

J. A. Endicott was afforded a vote of thanks for his work in connection with the securing of the land free of charge for the housing of the coming Glendale industrial exhibit.

"SHRIEK OF ARABY" OPENS TONIGHT AT GLENDALE

Mack Sennett's latest effort is a hilarious comedy burlesquing "The Sheik" under the title "The Shriek of Araby." Ben Turpin with his crossed and roving eyes, is the Shriek. He is ably supported in this new comedy character by Kathryn McGuire in the leading feminine role, while George Cooper, Dick Sutherland, Ray Grey and Louis Fronde, between them, work up the humorous situations which confront "The Shriek of Araby," an Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release, coming to night to the Glendale Theatre.

Sennett carries the spectator's interest in his players from somewhere in America, out onto the broad expanse of the ocean where they see Turpin thrown overboard. They follow him and sympathize with him in his struggles against the waves in a trail canoe, and are happy when he is washed up on shore, even if it is the edge of an arid desert.

LEGION NEWS

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of Justice, freedom and democracy; to conserve and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness. Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion.

(By WILLIAM H. REEVES)
City Manager of Glendale

Almost three years ago when the World war was still fresh in the memories of the nation, about 75 ex-service men, members of the League of American Defense, voted to join with other forces and form a post of the American Legion in Glendale. This post was formed and since that time has taken an active interest and been an important factor in civic affairs. There are more than 300 members in the post and every man is vitally interested in the advancement of the community. The post is aided in this work by its unselfish untiring Women's Auxiliary.

To prove its interest in civic affairs the post has a membership in the chamber of commerce and some of the most untiring workers of that organization are members of the post. At all times the post has been ready to aid in any movement for the civic betterment of Glendale. It is this willingness that has made the post a recognized factor in the growth of the city.

This willingness to aid in civic affairs is the spirit of the men who served during the World war, and were glad of the opportunity to offer their lives in a troubled time. They returned to peaceful occupations at the close of the war, realizing that only through their untiring efforts to add to and improve their community could they retain the ideas that for two years they had defended with their blood.

At all times the city administration has found the membership of the Glendale post its staunchest supporters. Civic organizations have found the same is true. The Legion is never deaf to the call to help in the betterment of the community.

STATE SENATOR JOHNSON TELLS OF VOTE LOSS

Was Before the Assembly When Jury Bill Was Up in Senate

The following explanation of how Senator A. Burlingame Johnson failed to be recorded as voting on the three-fourths jury bill was received by the Glendale Daily Press. There had been some surprise at his absence when the bill was up.

My Dear Mr. Watson: Your telegram of the 23rd inst., was received last night. I left on the 23rd for Northern California which accounts for the delay. My failure to vote on the three-fourths jury measure seems to have created a great deal of anxiety among my friends at home.

It was an unusual coincidence that resulted in my vote not being recorded. All day long a discussion on that measure had been dragging its weary length and about 3:30 p. m. Assemblyman Frank Weller came in the senate and said that one of my bills, which was introduced at the request of the county supervisors, and had passed the senate, was up before the assembly committee; that there was opposition to it and that he had asked for a delay for a few moments so that he could send for me. I explained the matter to friends of the jury bill and then instructed the sergeant-at-arms to send a deputy after me in case the need should begin to call the roll. This he did and while I was still explaining my bill the deputy notified me to return.

I did so and arrived at the door of the senate just as the president announced the result of the vote, which of course was too late, but under a rule governing the senate, had the measure not carried by a two-thirds vote, which is required, the friends of the bill would then have been able to delay the completion of the roll call until I had time to cast my vote. The vote not being needed the request was not made, and that is the whole story.

By the way, I saved my bill before the committee, which is some compensation for the job that my failure to vote seems to have given my friends in Pasadena and Glendale.

Thanking you very much for your telegram and with the sincere hope that in all matters pertaining to our locality you will feel free to consult with me, I beg to remain, very sincerely yours, A. Burlingame Johnson.

THE MARKETS

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 28.—Intimations that no immediate decrease in the Federal Reserve discount rate was impending brought about a further recovery of prices in today's stock market. Speculative disappointment over the failure of New York Central directors to increase the quarterly dividend and firmer time money rates had a restraining effect on business. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Further recovery from recent heaviness took place at the opening of today's stock market. Constructing the federal reserve bank's statement yesterday as an indication that no immediate change in rates or policies was impending, operators for the rise resumed. The bidding of their favorite, the initial demand was most effective in the oils, coppers, shippings and a large list of specialties.

Trading broadened considerably in the first half with initial gains well extended. Steels, sugars, equipments and the automotive shares were heavily bought, the gains ranging from fractions to nearly two points. Gains of a point or more were recovered by Punta Alegre, South Porto Rico and Manati Sugars, American Locomotive, Baldwin, Republic Steel, Cerezo De Pasco, Marland Oil, Sinclair, Stromberg Carburator, Bosch Magneto, Studebaker, Mack Truck, Kelly Springfield, Reynolds Spring, Moon Motors, Philip Morris, American Can and U. S. Alcohol. Foreign exchanges opened irregular. Demand sterling was unchanged at 4.83½ and French francs advanced five points to 6.52 cents.

More than seventy stocks had advanced a point or more when the night's closing quotations before noon. Railroad shares made only a feeble response to the impressive strength shown by the industrial list, speculative interest in these issues being dimmed by the failure of the New York Central directors to increase the quarterly dividend. Several new records for the year, including Marland Oil, Philip Petroleum and Union Bag and Paper. Beechnut Packing was conspicuously heavy, falling 3 points from its early high level on profit-taking. Some of the outstanding strong spots were Manhattan Electrical Supply, American Tobacco A and B, and Virginia Carolina Chemical preferred up 2 to 3½ points. Call money opened at 5½ per cent.

Faultless Bread Is Offering Special Prizes for "Wraps"

Say, kids, you ought to get in on this special prize offer. You know what. Faultless bread is, isn't it? Well, fellows, the man who makes that bread is going to give a special prize each week to the boy or girl bringing in the largest number of Faultless Bread wrappers. Nobody knows what that special prize is going to be. It may be 15 bucks—maybe it will be a great chocolate layer cake with lots of yum yum icing on the top and all over the sides—it may be, well—it may be lots of good things. Sure thing it will be something that the winning boy or girl will be glad to have.

Then, too, all the wrappers brought in will go toward winning one of the grand prizes. So get busy, kids. There's nothing to it. Ask your friends and neighbors to save Faultless wrappers for you. Gather 'em all up every Saturday and bring them to the Glendale Daily Press. It won't cost you a cent.

Remember, this special prize is going to be something worthwhile.

OKLA. BANDIT IS TOO KEEN FOR AIRMEN

Escapes After Outwitting and Outfighting 150 Pursuers

(By Associated Press)
TULSA, Okla., March 28.—Al Spencer, Oklahoma outlaw, apparently had made his escape today after outfighting and outwitting a posse of more than 150 officers and men.

With one lieutenant, Spencer battled his way out of a death trap set by the posse and then vanished. Both Spencer and the man with him were believed to be wounded.

The search for Spencer and his companion was being directed to day around Tulsa.

The bandit leader left behind him two of the men who were alleged to have aided him Monday in the robbery of the State Bank at Mannford—one dead and the other in the hands of Creek county officers.

The dead bandit is Bud Maxfield, who started his criminal career back in the territorial days of Oklahoma as a cattle rustler.

Leo Sturtz, Tulsa auto mechanic, is the man held, authorities say. The hunt for Spencer, who has terrorized Northern Oklahoma for several years by making sudden descents upon county banks, has been given up today by the posse that rallied from three counties when it was believed that Spencer had been brought to his last stand.

With one of his men captured, another shot down and hemmed in on a wooded hill, four miles east of Mannford, death seemed all too certain for Spencer Monday night.

But Spencer, after standing off the posse with gunfire, glided down the hill through the brush before daylight, made his way back toward Mannford and within two miles of the scene of the holdup crossed the

SOVIET ORDERS EXECUTION OF ARCHBISHOP

Set for Thursday According to Dispatches to the Vatican

(By Associated Press)
ROME, March 28.—The executions by the soviet government of Archbishop Zepliak, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, and Vicar General Butchkavitch, have been set for Thursday, according to a report from Monsignor Lofenzo Lauri, papal nuncio in Warsaw, as made public in a semi-official statement from the vatican this afternoon.

The vatican is deeply affected by the death sentences passed upon Archbishop Zepliak and Monsignor Butchkavitch in Moscow and it is understood that Pope Pius is exerting his personal influence to save the lives of the two priests. When the cases came up recently, the holy see interposed its good offices through the Russian minister here and the soviet government responded that the accused Catholics would be tried with perfect "dispassionateness." The extremity to which the court went in imposing penalties has caused the greatest disappointment.

U. S. PROTESTS EXECUTION OF ROMAN CATHOLICS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Dedication of the soviet government to execute Archbishop Zepliak and Monsignor Butchkavitch of the Catholic church in Moscow tomorrow, was characterized by the state department as constituting an outrage against humanity which could not fail to create the deepest feeling of resentment and horror in the United States.

POLAND HEARS OF DELAY

(By Associated Press)
WARSAW, March 28.—The Polish government has been informed through the soviet minister in Warsaw that the death sentence against Archbishop Zepliak, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, will not be carried out by the Russian government, "at least for the present," and that the affair will be taken up in diplomatic circles.

VENICE PLEDGES HER SUPPORT TO PASADENA

Cinnarion river where he headed through the river bottoms to Tulsa. Hunters following the trail, marked the course that Spencer and his companion took in their retreat. Maxfield was shot down on the hillside late Monday when the posse came upon Spencer and two companions. But Spencer did not desert his pal when he fell. Blasting away at the pursuers, the bandit leader and the unwounded man dragged Maxfield up the hill. When it was ascertained that Maxfield was dead, the body was left behind in a clump of bushes, where the posse came upon it later.

Sturtz was taken without a struggle near the hill where he was repairing a tire on the motor car used by the bandits.

Thrift Has a Two-Fold Importance

SAVING means more than just protection and opportunity for the saver. Upon it is founded the economic structure of the nation. Its importance is indicated by the fact that in the United States alone savings deposits exceed fifteen billion dollars.

While saving for a personal reason, the saver contributes to his community's welfare. Combined savings are capital. Capital, distributed through banks, tills the fields and turns the wheels of industry. To save money is, therefore, not only a personal advantage, but the duty of every citizen.

Your funds, deposited in this bank, are used here to rebuild your community. Your account, however small, is welcome.

REV. J. E. SANDERS IS HONORED ON 83D BIRTHDAY

Friends Gather at Ballentine to Congratulate Retired Minister

BY REV. R. C. MORGAN

Tuesday afternoon, March 27, at the home of Rev. G. N. Ballentine, 713 S. Louise street, Glendale, a company of friends and members of the First Baptist church of Burbank, met at the above address to tender their sincere and hearty congratulations upon his eighty-third birthday to Rev. J. E. Sanders who is a retired Baptist minister, and Mr. Ballentine's father-in-law.

Appropriate addresses were given by Rev. E. A. Main, pastor of the Baptist Church of Burbank, and Rev. R. C. Morgan of 203 West Elk avenue, Glendale, and others. All expressed their love and esteem, and brought costly gifts as tokens of the deep affection they had for the honored old warrior of Christ's gospel.

The afternoon was most pleasantly spent in profitable conversation, calling back the sweet memories of the long time ago. Four of the aged persons present: Revs. Sanders and Morgan, and Mrs. Alice Bailey Hoffman, and Mr. Thayer, made an aggregate of 328 years between them. Mr. Main made a very appropriate prayer and Rev. R. C. Morgan read the following poem composed for the occasion. Ample refreshments were served at the close. All enjoyed the feast.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

By Rev. R. C. Morgan, Glendale, and hearty congratulations to his dear and much esteemed brother in the Lord, the Rev. J. E. Sanders, South Louise street, Glendale, on his eighty-third birthday, March 27, 1923.

Christian pilgrim, worn and weary,
Toss'd upon life's stormy sea;
We salute you and we greet you,
As you've reached your eighty-three.
Hoary locks your temples cover,
Whitened by the frosts of age,
Soon the conflict will be over,
Soon the tempest cease to rage.

Age upon its staff reclining,
Guarded by the weight of years,
See the sun is fast declining,
Jordan's stormy banks draw near.
Footstools pilgrims in the night,
See the living waters flow,
There assuage your thirst and rally
To that fountain ever so.

Hasten onward, pilgrim stranger!
Speed your steps—do not delay;
Subtle snare may still endanger;
Foes may still in ambush lay.
Should you pass through tribulation,
As all pilgrims have to do,
Bear it all with resignation,
Christ, your Master, suffered too.

What to us are earthly treasures,
Wealth or honor, worldly fame?
Transitory are its pleasures,
Earthly bliss an empty name.
What though we should all inherit,
When afflictions ravages roll high,
Would they calm our troubled spirit?
Would they check the rising sigh?

Pilgrim, as you travel nearer,
To that land—home of the free,
Do its glories shine still clearer,
As you pass your eighty-three?
Yes, the scene is more transcendent,
Grows still brighter day by day,
And the lustre more resplendent,
As you travel on your way?

True the sky is sometimes hazy;
Misty seasons dim the way,
But the murky shades so many,
Only bring a brighter day.
Toss'd upon life's stormy ocean,
Still no shipwreck have you seen,
In this world of dire confusion,
Christ has still your refuge been.

Oh the "Rock of Ages" founded,
Your faith's center'd there,
With a steadfast hope well grounded,
This will banish dark despair.
You'll find secure the harbor,
Where no hostile foe invades,
Safely placed beyond the river,
There where sin no more degrades.

There the shining sons of sorrow
Find at last a peaceful rest,
Naught your ragged soul to harrow
In the mansions of the blest.
There to sing the song of Moses,
And the Lamb through endless day;
There in song that never ceases,
Pass the happy hours away.

Soon you'll hear a joyful greeting,
From the friends who've gone before,
Won't it be a glorious meeting,
When we meet to part no more?
They are at the portals waiting;
Glad to hail and greet you there;
Crown'd with glory and adorning,
Starry crowns for you to wear.

Don't you see the crystal fountains,
Cast your eye of faith away,
Far beyond the misty mountains,
To the realms of endless day.
Scenes of most transcendent glory,
Pass before my ravished eyes;
Mortal tongue can't tell the story
Of immortal paradise.

Society LODGES - CLUBS - CHURCHES BUSINESS WOMEN GILLETTE TENT HOLD BIG PARTY AT CLUBHOUSE MARKS THIRD BIRTHDAY

Overflows to Porches and Hear Dr. Hukill in Interesting Address

An attendance which filled the reception rooms of their clubhouse and overflowed onto the porch, marked the regular social meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club.

A supper was served at 6:30 and followed by a session at which the captains of the teams in the "earn a dollar" campaign reported receipts and told of how the money had been earned, and then came the program of the evening.

The records of the teams ran as follows: Mrs. Mary Baxter, $20; Mrs. Ida Nordren Gilman, $19; Miss Stevens, $12.50; Mrs. Bulett, $9; Dr. Hewen, $9; Miss Reaser, $6; Mrs. Gregory, $7; Dr. Early, $5. These sums totaled $87.50, and additional amounts which had been promised but not yet turned in to the various captains brought the total to $97.50.

Besides this, a large and handsome cake was presented to the club by a friend of the organization, Mrs. Cory Webster Dudley, and this was sold at 25 cents a share, the cake being won by Mrs. Lindley of the Yale Brothers Realty company, who invited the members to join her at noon at the office today when the cake would be cut and distributed to all comers. The cake brought in an additional $9.50. The returns from the dinner were $11.75 and the penny march added $1 to the receipts, making a total of $119.75, over which there was great rejoicing.

Announcement was made that the money raising campaign to pay off the small indebtedness the club owes for house furnishings will be continued with a card party which will be given by Mrs. M. G. Smith at her home, 311 South Central avenue, next Tuesday evening, April 3, to which members will be privileged to invite as many friends as they desire, the tickets being 50 cents. Inasmuch as Mrs. Smith is generously doing this for the club, of which she is an enthusiastic member, she is anxious that other members should respond and insure a big attendance at the party at which prizes will be given and refreshments served.

Following these reports the program was given which included two vocal solos by Miss Pansy Sheldon, "The Valley of Laughter," by Wilford Sanderson, and "South Winds" by Mary Turner Salter, which were much enjoyed.

Dr. Hannah Hukill was then called upon and gave a talk of absorbing interest on the lost continents of Atlantis and Lamuria, telling of the confirmations of the legends of these lost islands which are found in the reports of geologists and the deep sea soundings of American and British scientists who have been appointed to map the floor of the oceans.

She referred to the reference to Atlantis by Plato, said to be based on lore obtained from Egyptian priests, to the allusions to this continent by Homer and to the modern work on the subject by Ignatius Donnelly, and outlined the region covered by the earlier continent of Lamuria, which is now Pacific ocean. The Atlantis islands are said to be a part of this continent that through volcanic disturbances is slowly rising again and new islands constantly being discovered. The continent of Atlantis existed where the Atlantic ocean now is, she declared. The Azores are supposed to be peaks of the mountains of Atlantis which sunk with many cities representing a high degree of civilization.

INTERMEDIATE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY MEETS

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church went to Brookside park yesterday evening to hold their regular monthly business meeting. The crowd of about thirty left the church at about 5:30 and arrived at Brookside about 6:15. Mildred Thompson and her social committee had charge of the eats. Hot dogs were roasted over the live coals and baked beans were served hot. During supper a short business meeting was held and the executive officers turned in their reports. After supper some went over to play tennis while others stayed behind and played games. The trip was enjoyed by all and everybody had a good time.

The superintendent, Mr. Brown, and the assistant superintendent, Mildred Elliott, were present. The following were present: Misses Mildred Thompson, Ruth Jeckle, Margaret Jones, Margaret Majors, Helen White, Helen House, Helen Gaskin, Mildred Sooy, Louise Hook, Charlotte Cavill, Dorothy Crook, Elaine Buttard, Grace Yarbrough, Janet Yarbrough, Gertrude Heidman, and Gladys Gilman; Messrs. Spencer Jewel, John Elliott, Donald Elliott, Harold Parker, Daryle Parker, Percy Jewel, Graham Tinning, Fred Fallis, Harold Majors, Lyle McAllister, Baxter Andrews, Forest Krug, Edward Littell, John Heidman, Harold Jones and Thomas McClellan.

W. C. T. U. TO HOLD REGULAR MEETING

The regular meeting of the city W. C. T. U. will be held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Daugherty, 219 North Adams. The program will be in charge of Mrs. George Rowe, the theme of the day being "Medical Temperance," an which an address will be made by Dr. Laura Brown.

An Interesting Program Is Given by Daughters of Veterans

The third birthday anniversary since the organization of Mary Jane Gillette Tent, Daughters of Veterans, was celebrated last night with a very interesting program which was enjoyed by fifty members and friends at the American Legion hall. The tent was organized with a charter membership of twenty-three and at the present time has eighty members. Mrs. Pearl Moore is president of the organization which is open to the daughters, granddaughters or great granddaughters of Union veterans of the Civil war. Mrs. Cora Jones was the first president of Mary Jane Gillette Tent and Mrs. Susie Peck the second.

The program last night was in charge of the entertainment committee, which includes Miss Audrey Hall, Miss Leone Hilbert and Mrs. Susie Peck, and included the following numbers:

"The Bunny Dance," by Little Miss Eleanor Marek.
Group of children's readings, by Mrs. Pearl Moore, who was dressed as a little girl celebrating her third birthday anniversary.
Bartitone solos by A. R. Burton, accompanied at the piano by Miss Erma Bradshaw, "Just a Wearyin' for You" and "I Love You Truly."

Piano solo by Miss Audrey Hall, "La Fileuse" (Raff).
Banjo solos, popular melodies, by Miss Odell Cunningham, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marion Jones.

Readings by Mrs. Pearl Moore.
Vocal solos by Mr. Burton, "At Dawning" (Cadman), and a lullaby song, accompanied at the piano by Miss Bradshaw.

Miss Hilbert announced that on April 24 the Daughters of Veterans are planning to give their first big dance. She also announced that a sweater was to be disposed of for the benefit of a world war "buddy" and his family.
During a social hour which followed the program a large birthday cake, which was lighted with three candles, was cut and served with other refreshments.

IOWA PLAY IS STAGED

Members of the Iowa Society of Southern California will be glad to know that they can see a glimpse of their home state on April 4, 5 and 6, when "The Girl from Iowa" a stage success in four big acts and 100 scenes in the cast, will offer a new play with all the scenes and characters of the play laid in the state of Iowa, in and around Oskaloosa, Cedar Rapids and Clinton, Iowa.

The cast is a big one. Music and singing and Iowa actors will make this one of the most novel attractions ever staged in Southern California.
"The Girl from Iowa" will be at the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles, for three nights and one matinee, starting Wednesday, April 4.

EASTERN STAR TO POSTPONE ITS DANCE

As March 30, the date set for the ball to be given by the Glen Eyrle Chapter O. E. S., is Good Friday, the ball has been postponed until April 21.

THURSDAY CLUB TO HAVE FOOD SALE

Saturday at 10 o'clock a food sale for the benefit of the Thursday afternoon Club building fund will open at the Denman real estate office at 1400 South Brand. Mrs. J. S. Wilbur and Mrs. L. C. Denman will have charge of it.

"VOICE FROM THE MINARET" COMING TO T. D. & L.

The love affair of an English noblewoman and a youth preparing for the ministry, born on the sands of the desert, forms the basis of one of the most engrossing and thrilling motion pictures ever produced. It is Norma Talmadge's "The Voice from the Minaret," a First National picture, which is coming to the T. D. & L. Theatre on Thursday. The engagement will close on Saturday.

Miss Talmadge plays the part of the wife of the governor of Bombay. Breaking under the strain of misadventure and abuse to which he had subjected her ever since their marriage, Lady Adrienne leaves him and on the first stage of her journey to her home in England, she is thrown into contact with the youth, Andrew Fabian, the role being played by Eugene O'Brien.

Headless of their vows, the lovers plan to journey together to the Orient, but are awakened from their love dreams in a strange manner. This dramatic episode is but one of many powerful moments in this photoplay, which was directed by Frank Lloyd from the novel by Robert Hichens.

The eternal triangle is indeed eternal. Five thousand years ago in the cave-men age there existed love triangles just as there do today. In the paramount picture "Adam's Rib," produced by Cecil B. De Mille and which will be on view at the T. D. & L. theatre, close-up tonight, the featured players are seen in a "vision" of the stone age.

SEVERAL HUNDRED GREET OPENING AT TABERNACLE

Jeter to Be Assisted To-night by Moody and Sankey Veteran

The big tabernacle at the corner of East Broadway and Cedar was completely and decorated yesterday. Several hundred people were out at the opening service last evening to hear the evangelist and many cheers went forth in approval of the message.

There seemed to prevail in the audience a desire for an old-time revival. The evangelist emphasized that the churches could not do their best work without a revival of the old-time fire burning in the breasts of Christian people and souls being converted.

He said he would make the faces of many people tonight and let their neighbors see from the cartoon standpoint how their friends look when husbands are quarrelling with wife and wife with husband and neighbor with neighbor; the fellow that does not speak with the other fellow and tries to hide in the alley when his neighbor passes by.

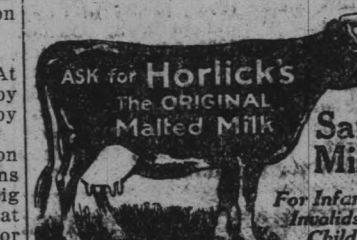

Several gas stoves will heat the tabernacle tonight.
Mr. Hollingshead, who played for Moody & Sankey, will play for the revival.

PASSION WEEK SERVICES

The Pacific Avenue Community Methodist Church is observing Passion week with special services tonight, Thursday and Friday nights. The subjects for the respective nights are as follows: "Behold Thy King," "In the Garden," "Comrades of the Cross."

The Easter day program at both the morning and evening hours will be of special interest.

A man isn't necessarily a failure because he has failed.

The Original Food-Drink for All Ages. Quick Lunch at Home Office & Fountain. Rich Milk, Malted Grain Extract in Powder, Tablets, Tablets, No cooking. Avoid Imitations and Substitutes.

LEGION AUXILIARY
PLANS MAYPOLE
DANCE

Real Spring Festival to Take Place on April
Seventh

A real May festival, just such as used to take place on the "green," with merry lads and lassies frolicking about a Maypole, is planned by the American Legion Auxiliary, to take place in the ballroom of the Woman's club house on the evening of the first Saturday in May. It is to be one of the season's biggest events.

Many special attractions have been put on the program already. There will be fairy dancers in gossamer dresses, flower bedecked, and May baskets, a Maypole, and best of all the radiant Queen of the May, and ladies of the court. It will be a real spring festival, gaiety and merry-making holding down the throne with the queen.

While dancers are waiting to rhythmic strains, or frolicking to the latest popular airs, the Maypole dancers will be staging their part of the entertainment in the center of the ballroom, around a Maypole that will be colorful and artistic. This promises to be a pretty sight for all those who do not care to dance, but will be there for the rest of the good time.

The May queen has not been chosen as yet, but several candidates have already loomed up in the field to vie for the honor.

The admission will be one dollar per couple. A later announcement will be made of the full program, and the outcome of the contest for queen.

The American Legion Auxiliary announces that a series of card parties will be given at the homes of various members of the organization. These are not yet announced, but Miss Katherine Besolo is in charge.

BLOSSOM - ORANGE
NUPTIALS TO TAKE PLACE

"Mr. and Mrs. Valencia invite everyone to the wedding of their daughter, Blossom, to Mr. Orange. All wedding gifts will be given to the next bazaar. Are you not anxious to see the bride? These are the gist of clever invitations that have been sent out by the ladies of the Congregational Church for the party which they are giving on Thursday, April 5, at the home of Mrs. Archibald Fiske, 203 N. Castle avenue.

As the invitation states the party is open to all ladies who care to come and get acquainted with all the other ladies. And newcomers are especially welcome. These parties which the ladies of the Congregational church give frequently are always unique and filled with surprises. All those who attend are promised a genuine good time and many new friends.

Finals Are Greeted With
Waves of Applause
From Annexers

The Parent-Teachers Association last night gave the election returns at their regular picture show, and they were hailed with great clamor and applause by the crowd. When the finals came in there was a loud cheer from all those who favored the winning side. A larger crowd was drawn out to the Parent-Teacher entertainment this week than will be occasioned again for some time to come, and next time it will be on another question than this, which is now settled, after many months of hard work on the part of realtors and individuals for annexation.

TO YOU THINKING PEOPLE WHO
Have an Interest in the Growth
and Progress of Eagle Rock
ON MARCH 31stA New Outpost Will Be Established in the Progressive March of Both the Commercial and Civic Life of Eagle Rock

The doors of the new Eagle Rock State Bank will be open on March 31st at 9 A. M. and will remain open that day until 9 P. M. The opening of this bank will be a striking point in time from which many lesser occurrences will be dated.

The opening of a State Bank is an extraordinary occasion. There is nothing about it that is either ordinary or usual. It is an event of tremendous importance to the public, for it means that your State Government has sent representatives here to examine this district and determine whether or not it needed the impulse which a strong and well-managed bank could give it, and the issuing of our charter is evidence that such a need is here.

With this in mind, it is not unreasonable to believe that the opening of the Eagle Rock State Bank is so influential a factor in the development of this locality that it has the importance of being an epoch-making event in this section's history.

We fully appreciate the historical significance of the opening day of any bank, and knowing that you have the progressive mind that grasps the uniqueness and advantages of such an occasion, and believing that you realize the importance which the opening of a strictly home-owned and home-operated bank, with completely equipped commercial and savings departments, has, we have provided a handsome souvenir in the nature of a silver Artpoint pencil which will be presented to every First Day Depositor, either checking or savings, no matter what size the deposit may be.

This souvenir is a costly and substantial affair designed especially for this occasion and possessed of practical usefulness. The First Depositor at the Bank, next Saturday morning, will receive a beautiful gold pencil—one for the first lady and one for the first gentleman—and all other depositors will be presented with silver ones of the same design and quality.

This is an unusual souvenir and one which both now and in after years anyone will be proud to own. In reality, it is a token of the time when you took part in the furtherance of the commercial and financial facilities of this fast-growing section by helping to establish a strictly home-owned and home-operated State Bank within its borders.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF BURBANK AND ITS ENVIRONS

SHOULD FIGHT NARCOTIC EVIL AT ITS SOURCE, URGES ATTORNEY YALE AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Reminding the Burbank Woman's club that India imports more than twenty million dollars' worth of habit-forming drugs to the United States, Attorney Margaret Yale, made a plea for all civic betterment forces to co-operate in putting forth every influence to stop the drug traffic.

The subject is one that holds the attention at any time and Mrs. Yale made it doubly interesting through her ability to tell things as though she were going to the audience over the tea cups, with humorous side remarks and also because she was able to give authentic cases garnered from her experiences as wife of a doctor. She said in part:

"Fellow club members: Twenty-four hours ago I was preparing to speak to you upon re-apportionment, but I have been myself re-apportioned, a friend, Mrs. McGill, having called from the city prosecuting office and asked me to substitute for her and to talk to you upon the drug evil. I shall let you hear now, which will show you why I could not refuse. One thing you can rest assured about, if you ever have the chance to hear another speaker upon this subject, that there will be nothing in it that I will tell you today in the speech. I will tell of the human side rather than from the statistical facts. They are things I learned from the medical profession.

"In 1914 there were no acts regulating the sale of narcotics in the United States. Physicians could get all they wanted. Under the Harrison act, they must take out permits and account for drugs.

"Up to 1914 there were only 65 federal narcotic officers. Later there were 163 with L. G. Mutt of California in charge. The government and the state tried to regulate the drug traffic but the long sea line and the Mexican border gives great chance for smuggling.

"Opium, morphine, cocaine, heroin are the habit forming drugs which are being sold in every town, nearly. Morphine is refined opium, that is, it is the sedative part of opium. It is taken as little round pills or dissolved in water and used in a hypodermic needle. It is sometimes mixed with heroin and snuffed. Some snuff cocaine.

"At first the victim takes small doses and then shortly has to increase it in larger doses. Sometimes physicians have administered 1.8 of a grain of morphine when a patient is suffering with gallstone colic. This deadens the intestines and other organic functions are depressed, when it is necessary in extreme cases.

"It can be easily seen how a drug addict causes functions of the body to perform in a sluggish manner, for he is so fully poisoned by toxins in his system. An addict finally takes as much as six grains a day, a dose which would instantly kill anyone if taken for the first time.

"A patient of Dr. Yale's came to ask to be cured from taking such a dose. He was a big, husky fellow and worked twenty hours a day. But it cost him from $7 to $8 a day to get his drug. He had a family and he wished to be cured, realizing the results that would wreck his life.

"Denarcotizing is the treatment which is used; it is a counteracting poison. The dose is first decreased. This is where the trouble enters, for even though a cure is desired, the addict will do anything to get the drug. They use all sorts of sneaking methods but a three-day treatment behind the bars will usually bring the desired results. This will make him weak and out of his head. He will stay in a stupor for two days. Sometimes this is all that is needed. Then he can not bear the sight of the drug.

"The reason for craving it is his extreme agony, for he is in pain. Especially is he suffering intestinal agony. He has grating pains and his nerves are shattered.

"One patient who came to be cured was found to have sores on his chest. He had used a needle without bothering to bare his chest, but stuck it through his shirt. Infection set in and ulcers resulted. Everything was removed from the room but the doctor knew that he was getting his drug in some way. Finally they discovered that there were twenty phials hidden in the mattress.

"There is a case in Los Angeles where a young girl of twenty-three in the county jail who had taken it at the age of 18. They have given her the 'iron cure.' This stops the dose altogether. She has been behind the bars now for seven months and never receives any drug.

"It is said that doctors think that Wallace Reid would have recovered if he had been given the 'iron cure,' but instead they tried lowering the dose and some one smuggled in a drug and he died from an overdose.

"The Volstead act has received a great deal of blame for the increase of the drug habit which it does not deserve. There are many causes which have followed in the wake of the war, one of which is that India is making twenty million dollars every year from the United States by sending in the drug through Monterey, Mexico."

Mrs. Yale gave many interesting figures showing what Mexican smugglers receive and how much an addict pays for any of the banned dope.

Mrs. Atwater, accompanied by Mrs. Sinclair at the piano, sang "Destiny." The entire program, in charge of Mrs. Kate Thimman, was immensely interesting and the large audience enjoyed it thoroughly.

Mrs. May Clark reported the visit to Van Nuys on reciprocity day. She also read a letter from Mrs. Barnum, a Burbank club woman who is visiting at Excelsior Springs. Mrs. Barnum will leave for New Orleans soon, then from there to Louisiana and up for a trip to the Great Lakes and then home to Burbank in three months. She also sent a box for the needy poor to be distributed by the club thru Mrs. Clark.

MICHIGAN GRADUATE RULES JAPAN'S DIET
TOKYO (By mail to United Press).—A Japanese graduate of the University of Michigan has the hardest-boiled job in the Far East—speaker of the house of representatives of the Japanese Diet.

Yoshizo Kasuya, the new speaker, has to combine the skill, qualities and technical ability of a baseball umpire, prize-fight referee, good poker player and shrewd diplomat—as well as to be a fine parliamentarian and first-class politician.

The house of the Japanese Diet has long ago broken all world records for turbulence. The speaker is supposed to be able to dodge flying inkpots, to keep the boys always just a little side of actual murder, and to have the trusty old steam-roller always under perfect control.

Kasuya, being a lawyer, newspaper man, nine times a member of the Diet, and a "good guy" at Michigan, naturally combines all qualifications.

Kasuya was born in 1866 at Fushawa, graduated at Tokyo university, went to Michigan and graduated, came back home and entered politics. He has published a newspaper and made several trips to America.

CITY HALL HAS VARIED DAY

Tuesday was a big day in Burbank. There was all sorts of excitement. Tom Mix and his company came for a serial all about Bargain Day and had his camera men and scenery on San Fernando boulevard and visited the city hall. Then Captain F. H. Varney of Atascadero, California, who is now a movie actor and was a one-time member of the Burbank police force, was in town and visited the city hall to bid everybody goodbye as he was leaving for the north.

Captain Varney preceded George Cole, chief of the Burbank office, two years ago. While in Burbank he says he purchased fifteen episodes of the Sacred Films studio and will have his own studio with Harry Gaylord. He is also interested in getting a flypaper factory started in Burbank.

Judge Crawford heard speeders tried why they happened to be in court.

wired antenna of radios up into trying to trace the record of John Willison who was found dead in his room at 138 East San Fernando boulevard.

Patent papers were completed and sent in by R. W. Colburn and Roy Knabenshue concerning the balloon aerial which they have invented for radio fans. The balloons which are to carry the one.

The Burbank police force was the air and thus eliminate the unsightly wooden sticks in an idea which Mr. Colburn is sure will be found to be very successful.

PAYS BURBANK FOR DRINKING

Heat apparently affected speeders' court Tuesday. Many forfeited bail, and those who did appear had no adequate reason to give for speeding. No one hustled to work and no one told of a sick grandmother or mother-in-law.

Most of the fines were for $10. Homer Thomas, who had been sailing along at the rate of 34 miles, paid $15 for his disregard of life and limb. Road burning fiends added several dollars to the support of the town Tuesday, but the amount of fines did not equal the usual total because of the few in court.

A temperance lecture by Judge Crawford to E. G. Seely, ex-server in the police court, and it ended practically with a fine of $75. When Seely, charged with resisting an officer, was asked for an explanation, he said he did not know the man and furthermore, had no idea of what he was doing because he had taken a few drinks. He gave no explanation of where and how he obtained the intoxicating liquor. Judge Crawford explained that liquor usually had that effect on the mind and his advice, which followed, would help the federal prohibition agents if it were heralded abroad every week in the schools of the country.

The trouble with the man who knows nothing is that he always is the last one to find it out.

HOME NURSING and HEALTH HINTS

HICCUGHS

The family was becoming alarmed. All morning the Man of the House had been hiccupping. It was, as he asserted between hiccupps, no joke.

He continued to hiccup spasmodically, painfully, with increasing alarm, especially after a neighbor dropped in to borrow a book and imparted the cheering information that he had known a man who hiccupped for three days—and then died. "Died in awful agony. Just hiccupped himself to death. It was a terrible sight." So said the neighbor—helpfully.

Pinches of sugar on the man's tongue, which was the only thing his wife had ever heard of doing to relieve hiccupps, failed to help. "I knew that wouldn't do a bit of good," protested the man wearily. "Better send for the doctor."

It was a concession of his part, and his wife only to gladly sent post haste for the family physician. She had wanted to do so all along, but the Man of the House had ridiculed the idea as absurd.

The doctor came in, making some facetious remark about the aridness of the Great American Desert.

"This is no joke, Doc," said the Man of the House. "And I haven't made any of those vaudeville jokes about it."

"What are hiccupps, anyway?" asked the wife. "I mean, what causes them?"

Usually overeating and indigestion," said the doctor frankly. "A hiccup is a spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm, the great muscle separating the chest from the abdomen."

RECORD LICENSE AFTER 49 YEARS

[By Associated Press] MISSOULA, Mont., March 28.—Marriage license of Edgar S. Paxson, early day cowboy artist of Montana, whose paintings of frontier scenes decorate the walls and ceiling panels of the Montana capitol at Helena, has been received here for recording.

The license, dated 1874, was made out to Paxson and Laura M. Johnson, both of East Hamburg, N. Y. Mr. Paxson, after serving with "Buffalo Bill" Cody as a scout in several Indian campaigns, came to Missoula and lived here until his death three years ago.

The purpose of having the 49 year old license recorded now was not explained in the letter requesting that it be put on record.

A man's good opinion of himself is the real thing.

SEEK SOVIET CONCESSIONS

[By Associated Press] BUTTE, Mont., March 28.—Friends here of W. W. McDowell, former lieutenant governor of Montana, are anxiously awaiting news from Mr. McDowell, who sailed last month from New York with the intention of making his way to Russia to negotiate with Lenin, Trotsky and other officials of the Soviet for copper concessions for American interests. The names of his backers have not been made public.

OAKLAND, Calif., March 28.—The "meanest burglar" has been found. After ransacking the house of James H. Price here, and finding nothing of value, a disappointed burglar mixed a batch of bread dough and spread it on the carpets and walls of several rooms.

POLICE WORK ON DEATH CASE

Which one of the 36 emotions which are responsible for all the dramatic situations in life can be assigned to the notation which the Burbank police force entered in the police blotter this week concerning John Willison?

At 5:40 Tuesday evening they were notified that a man had been found dying with a gunshot wound in his right temple, in his room in the rooming house at 138 East San Fernando boulevard. He was taken to the Cottage hospital where he died 10 minutes later.

The police found that he belonged to the bricklayers' union No. 2 in Los Angeles. The records there showed him to be 38 years old. It was found his father, James Willison, was living at Hollister.

Mr. Willison had been in Burbank for the past year and a half. Other roomers in the same house stated that he was out of work and slightly ill and despondent.

It is said that the 32 Smith & Wesson revolver which was used to fire the shot was found in the dresser drawer, and the dead man was stretched out over a suitcase which was open and photographs, evidently of relatives, were before him. He had two bank accounts—but there was no money in the First National bank, and only $2 at the State Bank of Burbank credited to his account.

Time for the inquest will be set after word has been received from the father.

WILL CONDUCT LENTEN SERVICE

Concordia Evangelical Lutheran Missouri Synod church, Third and Angeleno, will have special Lenten services with celebration of the Holy Communion, at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. The pastor, Rev. H. O. Kringel, will be in charge. Easter services will commence at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

BURBANK ROTARY CLUB PLANS FOR CHARTER NIGHT APRIL 9 AT SUNSET CANYON COUNTRY CLUB

"Charter night" for the Burbank Rotary club is to be celebrated Monday, April 9, according to arrangements made at the Rotary club meeting Tuesday noon following luncheon at the Good Fellows social club. The charter is ready for delivery and will be presented that night by Governor Jack Williams, the Rotary governor of this district.

The social committee, with Andrew Pillaich as chairman, is making extensive plans for the most elaborate social function ever given in Burbank. It is planned to have the banquet at the Sunset Canyon Country club.

Court Miller, city engineer of Burbank, gave the talk this noon concerning the growth of Burbank. Fitted as no one else is, Mr. Miller told of the change he had observed in the town. Mr. Miller with the city engineering department of Los Angeles first saw Burbank in 1906. He gave a vivid word picture of the village at that time.

Now he says Burbank has twenty streets which are under improvement proceedings and mentioned the fact that Major Griffin of Los Angeles engineering department says his work is held back a year in Los Angeles, because of lack of assistants. There are 57 streets in Los Angeles which are under proceedings for street improvements. So he thought Burbank compared favorably with Los Angeles.

Three visiting Rotarians were present, Mr. E. Phillips of Glendale and Mr. Tanner and Sam Bernard of South Dakota. They spoke of the conference program which is to be given in Pasadena April 5, 6, and 7. It will begin at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning and close Saturday noon.

There will be some very definite ideas of applied Rotary. What Rotarians can do in boy and children's work for the betterment of mankind; Rotary business methods as the foundation upon which Rotary stands, and the index of its future greatness, and the opportunities and duties of citizenship will be some of the topics for special consideration.

The speakers will be Ed Kealey of Toledo, O.; Tom Davis, of Butte Montana; George Cartwright, of New York; Robert Sproul, of Berkeley; Blanche Bafes, of Oakland, Tully Knowles, of San Jose; Jim Feing, of Pasadena; Tom Boyer, of Richmond, and plenty of music and excellent stunts will be provided.

There will be a theatre party April 6. This is the first annual conference of the second district. The meeting opened with singing of Rotary songs led by Phil Zeiss Bradley Sims, the organist, was no present, and Mr. Quinte substituted for him.

REVIVE ANCIENT SILVER PRODUCER [By Associated Press] SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 28.—Candelaria, an old silver mining camp in western Nevada, which produced nearly $20,000,000 in the latter part of the last century, is being worked again, according to the United States geological survey here.

In the early days the ore averaged $50 or more to the ton and was thought, when this high-grade "petered out," that the mine had ceased to be a paying proposition. But the progress made in metallurgy during the last few years has rendered possible the efficient mining of the low-grade ore.

What is a Bank Worth To Its Community?

A bank's worth to its community is determined largely by what a bank "puts into" the community in the way of service, safety and convenience in handling money—and LOANS to aid in business, industrial and building activity.

Our hundreds of local depositors are the best judges of the character of service, safety and convenience provided by this Bank. As for loans—besides the hundreds of thousands of dollars already loaned on first mortgages and to aid local business men, we have an abundance of additional money available.

The Security Bank is interested in Glendale and wants to aid in every legitimate way in its upbuilding.

A SUPERSENATE

Frank Vanderlip, financier and student of public affairs, has made an interesting suggestion. It is for the establishing of a new governmental department of twenty-five members. It would be the duty of this group to handle foreign relations, and to assume the treaty-making power now vested in the senate. The members are to be elected from the country at large. It is the opinion of Mr. Vanderlip that the government is run largely by amateurs. Perhaps this is the case, and yet, politically speaking, it would be difficult to draw the line between the amateur and professional. Experience makes the professional. Senators still in office have had years of it. If they are amateurs still, it is not clear how twenty-five men could be selected from private life and at once assume a plane permitting them to escape the title.

Doubtless people are not wholly satisfied with the senate. They do not feel that that dignified body has met the legitimate demands upon it. It has wasted much time. It has permitted itself to be divided into blocs, the purpose of each bloc being to carry out the will of a faction. Thus it lacks unity of purpose. A number of senators have advocated and so continue to do, a policy of aloofness that could not well have any result but to check the industrial prosperity of the world, and hinder the coming of permanent peace. They brought about a condition that made necessary the making of a separate treaty with Germany, a course that a short time before some of the very partisans supporting it at the final vote, had denounced as unthinkable. Even now they are neglecting the plea of the President that the plan of an international court be endorsed. All this is not because they are amateurs; quite the contrary. It is because they are professional politicians.

Many expedients have been suggested for bettering the efficiency of government. The way to adoption of any of them, even were it to win popular approval, would be beset by obstacles. The constitution is subject to change, but not to rapid methods of change. Not absolutely rigid, it is far from being elastic. Perhaps the best way out would be the election of a higher quality of men to office. This system should by no means be confined to choice of senators. The weakness, such as it is, permeates all branches of public service.

SPARING THE TREE

Writing on behalf of trees one could do no better than to quote the exquisite lines of the late Joyce Kilmer, familiar though they must be to most readers:

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

The presence of a tree adds to beauty. The tree itself becomes stately with years. It imparts an air of dignity. To the home upon which its shadow is thrown it gives protection, serenity and charm. It has a distinct value. Let one doubt this, price two adjacent lots exactly alike in all respects except that one has a noble oak, and the other is treeless.

Some people seem to have a passion for destroying trees. It is an odd form of vandalism. It is said that trees that help to make the Arroyo Seco a place of delight are marked for the axe. To fell them would be to impose loss on the whole community. The Arroyo Seco is one of the playgrounds provided by nature to promote human happiness. It affords park space to more than one city. It gives thousands of people a pleasure and rest resort. There are plans for improving it greatly, and other plans for marring it. Here is a clash of the commercial and the artistic instinct. The latter is worthy of triumph.

LIBRARY BORROWERS

According to the secretary of the American Library association only one in ten of the residents of this country is a borrower of books. This is deemed to be too small a proportion. In many rural districts public libraries are not available, a condition, however, that gradually is being overcome. In cities there is in instances, lack of funds or of adequate personnel.

It is not to be assumed that people who fail to patronize public libraries are to be lumped as non-readers. There are many who do not read library books or any other literature, for the percentage of illiteracy is shamefully high. There are others who refrain from lack of desire, from reading anything that may be said to have a value. But the magazines of high class, giving an epitome of the world's news along special lines, whether these be mechanical, scientific, geographical, historical or literary, fill a large demand. The patrons of such publications as a rule do not seek them in the library. They subscribe or they purchase from stands.

There is another large body of readers made up of individuals of fine taste in literary productions. These read the modern novels, omitting the trash, and they prefer to own the volumes. Often there is an interchange of choice publications among friends. Groups meeting in social intercourse may discuss books intelligently and informatively, and yet not an individual in the group be a habitue of the public library. Great as is the function of that institution, there must be a large number to whom it makes no direct appeal, because they feel no personal need of it.

Notwithstanding these facts, the public library is most essential. It contains much that may be consulted as reference, that the book-lover would not care to have in his private collection, as a permanent. It is an excellent thing for a community to maintain a library. It becomes soon a center of local culture. It inculcates a taste for good reading at the same time that it supplies the reading matter. It gives to thousands who cannot afford to buy books, access to the best. Books constitute a university. An education is open to the student who selects with care the writings in which to find inspiration and the material for training his mind.

LATEST FASHION IN EARS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

In days gone by the length of ears effected by legislators was a matter of no importance. That was before women voted.

"Things are different, very different, awfully different now," and a few assemblymen in Sacramento are in a fair way to discover it.

The latest ear waving contest in the state capitol relates to a proposed bill forbidding married women to work "if their husbands earn enough to support them."

Can you beat it? It seems that Assemblyman Louis Erb of San Francisco and Assemblyman Cleveland of Santa Cruz started the talk. I don't know which one of them has been having trouble with his wife. The point is that both shied off when some bolder male spoke proposed embodying the subject of the conversations in a bill.

Anyhow, somebody, so it is reported, induced Jack Croter, former Coast League umpire, to say he would get back of such a bill.

Apparently Mr. Croter thinks he can run women as he can a baseball team. He is mistaken; he can do nothing of the kind. Women do not like his style of wearing his ears.

Who is going to decide when a man is earning "enough to support his wife"? Who is going to see that the wives of stubborn and niggardly men connect when their husbands do earn "enough"? Who is to determine that women of ability may or may not use that ability when and where they like if it is marketable, and where are the women going to be while assemblymen are wasting the time of their constituents on this kind of banal rot?

Moreover, do the proponents of this assinine measure assume to forbid half the citizens of California to follow their inclinations in the matter of work and to forbid women of ability and talent from using it to further their happiness and financial welfare?

How about the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness? Can women be happy in a condition of virtual sex slavery? They can not and they will never endure it, legislators or no legislators, law or no law.

I, for example, am a married woman and I prefer to wife. My husband agrees.

It is nobody else's business.

So long as I can find an editor to purchase my writings I shall write; and the state is full of women harboring similar determinations.

Should this idiotic bill go through the legislature it will merely put to the referendum at the expense of the citizens. In the end it will undoubtedly fail, as it should.

An ear waving competition the chat at Sacramento is interesting, but it has no other value. Moreover the discussion is a waste of the time which legislators owe to the business for which they were elected, and passing archaic laws is no part of it.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

CORRECT AT LAST
(Find the error in this article.)

It was apparent that there had been many seekers of information who had been unable to obtain answers to their questions.

It was also apparent that one of these questions had to do with whether or not the 8.06 New York, New Haven and Hartford train arriving at Mount Vernon, N. Y., at that time) stopped at 125th Street, for some one, either the ticket agent or a commuter, had scribbled the answer on a dirty piece of stiff paper, which had been stood up against the closed window.

The notice read as follows:
"The 8.06 don't stop at 125th Street."
Apparently some commuter had not approved of the formation of the don't and had undertaken to admonish the author by writing, above the error, the improved form don't.

And then another person who knew had been inspired to cross out don't and white doesn't a little higher up.

The sentence was correct at last.

The 8.06 don't (don't) stop at 125th Street.
Right: The 8.06 doesn't stop at 125th Street.

Macaulay wrote, "He had clung vehemently to life. He meant that Samuel Johnson had clung to life passionately; ardently; eagerly; with all his strength. Vehemently is pronounced 'v' mentally (I as in police); as in habit; as in get.)"

To settle a friendly dispute," write Jean and Jack, "will you please decide whether personality is correct in the following sentence, knowing that Mr. Jones has given to charity and has made himself respected in the community: 'He is a personality of consequence.'" The word is well chosen.

The noon and the midnight.

No man can pass me on.
No father can transmit me to his son.
No brother can lend me to his brother.
There is no other school where I may be taught.

I am the life and the living being.
I am the truth and the teacher.
I am knowledge and its exponent.
For I am Experience.

If you would know the desert you must walk through it with me.

And it is the same with the sea.
You must feel its waves and spray.
The winds must blow you down.
The shrouds and masts must fall about you.
You must know the glare of the sun on thirsty waters.

And then you will clasp the seafarer to you and give him food and drink and quiet.
And you will say: "I too know the sea."

I am Experience.
You cannot know me except through me.
You cannot gain me by reading or study.
You can know me only by action.
You must walk the way of life.

And when other wanderers and strugglers cry out you will clasp them and soothe them and comfort them.

And you will say: "I too have walked the way of life."

AROUND THE CLOCK

WITH UNCLE

JOE

How Senator, Cannon Spends His First Leisure Hours

DANVILLE, Ill., March 28 (U. P.)—An aged man strolled out of a barber shop here, slowly walked across the street to the Second National bank and disappeared behind the swinging doors. He carried his right arm carefully protected, across his chest. A big, black cigar, held at a 45 degree angle marked the man.

He was "Uncle Joe" Cannon, for 44 years an outstanding figure in the United States congress, who recently retired from public life.

The stroll from home, to barber shop, to bank, to Elks club and back home again is now "Uncle Joe's" daily routine. The aged legislator is perfectly happy and contented back home among the folks that he represented in the national congress for so long.

"It is mighty good to be home with the feeling that I will never again be forced to go back to the work at the national capital," Uncle Joe said in talking to a companion on his daily round.

"It was mighty interesting at Washington when things were hot, but now my chief interests are here with my old time friends and my family."

Cannon spends about two hours each day at the bank which he founded and in which he is still the main stockholder. All of his mail is answered while at the bank—and since he gave up the congressional job his mail has consisted of hundreds of letters daily. Many are from acquaintances he made a score of years ago when he was in the thick of affairs at the national capital. Nearly all pay high tribute to his work and wish him a pleasant vacation from the onerous burdens of congressional life. Cannon insists upon seeing and answering each one personally.

From the bank, Cannon usually "drifts" over to the Elks club for luncheon. Usually he has picked up one or two old time friends by noon time. They are members of the old "inner circle"—an exclusive club of six or seven of the old time members of the Elks club. After a leisurely luncheon, the "inner circle" gathers in the card room where there is a short game of draw poker—Cannon's indoor sport. Twenty-five cents is always the limit—and Uncle Joe holds his own.

About 2:30 the game breaks up, and accompanied by a friend or two, Cannon goes back to his home, where he spends the remainder of the day in his library. He is a great lover of books and takes great pride in showing his collection. This routine is varied about once a week by a trip to his farm near Danville.

"I am glad I got out of it," Cannon said. "A lot of young boys are coming up and are entitled to a chance. I held on long enough. Danville is the place for me to be—although I might take a trip to Washington after the next congress meets, just to look around."

"It hasn't taken so long to get back into my Danville clothes this time as usually, though."

And by the twinkle in the old warrior's eye, his companions knew that a favorite "Cannon joke" was on the way.

"You know my son-in-law, Earnest, is in Europe," he continued. "The last time I came home, I said, 'Earnest, have you been wearing my trousers?'"

"He replied that he had not. 'Well,' I said, 'I thought maybe you had, because I found a twenty dollar bill in one of the pockets that I had not recalled putting there.'"

IRON ORE DREAM MAY COME TRUE

(By Associated Press)

GREAT FALLS, Mont., March 28.

Possibility of the development into reality of the dream of the late Paris Gibson, formerly United States senator, friend of James J. Hill and founder of Great Falls, that Montana might become a producer of iron and steel, is seen by residents of Great Falls in the presence here of E. P. McCaughlin, of Spokane, Va., and P. H. Comer, representatives of a large Virginia iron company.

Iron ore in the Little Belt mountains was discovered in the later '80's. Senator Gibson, with little land scrip given him for the purpose by James J. Hill, came out from St. Paul and took up the trail on which he laid out the city of Great Falls. The iron ore and the continuity of coal deposits offered the possibility of a new Pittsburgh in the west, according to Senator Gibson.

When Senator Gibson died two years ago it was found that he had bought patents to several thousand acres of iron ore lands near Slusher, Mont. The deposit, which had been surveyed and described in a publication of the United States geological survey, runs fifty miles east and west in the Little Belt mountains.

Option on 600 acres near Nelhart has been secured by Mr. McCaughlin, and he is investigating freight rates on coke, pig iron and coal, and cost of electric power.

THE LOOM OF TIME

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc.

(Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

Rich or poor, lettered or unlettered, employer or employee, there is one task which everybody has to do, and which he has to do all his days. He performs it in his earliest years, and not until he draws his last breath does his labor at it cease.

The greatest idler in the world cannot evade this task.

He may flatter himself that he escapes work, in the sense that he is without settled occupation. Yet in his laziest moments he is busily engaged, albeit perhaps without being in the least aware of this, in toiling at the one task it is the common lot of all to perform.

That task is putting a distinctive, an individual pattern into the gigantic fabric God has set mankind to weave on the loom of time.

It is a fabric made up of the most intangible of materials, yet materials so tough that once a single strand is inserted as it should not be, effort truly herculean is needed to prevent the weaver's special pattern from appearing as an ugly blemish in the design of the whole. Feelings and desires, thoughts and words, actions of all sorts, are the materials employed, and wondrous is the abundance of these from which every weaver can choose.

Choice is made, some sort of choice, every moment of every hour of waking life.

It is made whether one is in solitude or in the densest of throngs. It is made in every response to the varying situations in which one finds one's self throughout the earthly pilgrimage.

According as the response is governed by love or hate, generosity or greed, unselfishness or selfishness, kindness or cruelty, loyalty or treachery, honesty or dishonesty, uprightness or baseness, the choice is for good or for ill. If the choosing is consistently and continuously for ill, the pattern one weaves is bound to become so hideous as to frighten even the weaver when the day of the great inspection at last arrives.

And be sure there will be such a day. The loom of time was not given man to work upon as one gives a child a toy for his amusement. Nor was man himself brought into the world as a child might bring a soap bubble into fleeting, purposeless existence.

Heed not those, however vociferously they speak in the name of science, who affirm the soap-bubble doctrine of man and the universe. Heed not the cynics maintaining the futility of human striving. Heed not the apostles of the pleasure gospel.

The prophets and the poets have a far clearer vision of truth than they, a far firmer grasp of reality:

Life? and worth living?

Yes, with each part of us—

Hurt of us, help of us, hope of us, heart of us,

Life is worth living.

Ah, with the whole of us,

Will of us, brain of us, senses and soul of us,

Is life worth living?

Aye, with the best of us,

Heights of us, depths of us—

Life is the test of us!

Only, remember, to none is long given opportunity to work to good advantage on the loom of time.

All must learn how to work well on that loom, all are certain to make mistakes that need correcting. The tragedy is that so many refuse to learn, so many leave mistakes uncorrected until life's working day is done.

The Once Over

BY H. I. PHILLIPS

JEFFRIES AND HIGH FINANCE

Jim Jeffries is broke. The former heavyweight champion of the world has failed for over $200,000. Most of that sum Jeff got together after his first retirement from the ring. In his early fighting days, Jim would have been delighted at the prospect of ever being able to fail for half that much money.

Jeff fought in the wrong period to be a good business man. When he was in the ring there was nothing about the game to give him financial training. He, like most of the old champions fought strictly under the rules of the Marquis of Queensberry and not under the rules of the Federal Reserve bank. In those days no fighter trained on bank statements.

It was the theory of fighting in Jeff's time that a champion should strive to see how many men he could put away per week rather than how many hundred thousand dollars he could put away per biennial business meeting.

Jeffries kept too busy fighting to give much time to banking matters. He had the silly idea that a fighter would be judged by the fighters he fought rather than by the bank presidents he knew. How could a pugilist be so dumb?

As a matter of fact, Jim went through his entire career, up to his attempted come-back, without ever hearing a sum like $200,000 mentioned, except one night, when Bull Brady got to estimating what the United States American war cost the United States.

A purse of $25,000 was big money for a champion in his day. Can you fancy Jacques Dempsey, Benjamin Leonard, or any of the modern champs fooling around with that kind of petty change?

Those were the days before boxers trained on "rates of exchange," "budget systems," "serial coupon bonds," "special amortiza-

AFTER ALL

Life's a short and mixed up measure
After all:
It's a quite uncertain treasure,
After all.

It has stony ways and hilly,
And we do its duties ill,
But we're in it willy nilly
After all.

It is not an unmixed blessing
After all;
For a lot of it's distressing
After all.
There's a lot of toil and trouble,
Sorrows sometimes seem to double,
And we find it's quite a bubble
After all.

There's a lot of trial and blunder
After all.

It's a time of curious wonder
After all.
And with dreams of wealth we're haunted,
And we seek it quite undaunted,
But it was not what we wanted
After all.

Still, it has a charm about it,
After all.

If sometimes we scold and flout it,
After all.
And the hopeful vision of us
Sees the blue of sky above us,
And the friends about who love us,
After all.

So we'll know that it has beauty
After all.
And we'll find the ways of duty
After all.
And with all its fret and ruing,
There are joys and flowers for strewing,
Yes, He knew what He was doing
After all.

MILEAGE BOOK RULING
PROTESTED BY FARMERS

[By Associated Press]
WASHINGTON, March 27.—The interstate commerce commission's order for the sale by railroads of interchangeable mileage books at reduced rates was protested today by the American farm bureau federation on the ground that it would afford a subsidy to "certain limited and specific classes or groups of people."

A re-hearing was asked.

LIGHT TO HONOR COLUMBUS

SANTO DOMINGO, March 28.—The movement to erect on the island of Santo Domingo, in the West Indies, a powerful lighthouse as a memorial to Christopher Columbus is to be furthered by the presence at the Pan-American conference at Santiago this month of a special representative of the Dominican government. He is Tulio M. Cestero, author and diplomat, and he will formally present the project at the conference.

PACIFIC OCEAN
DOUBLE TRACKED

[By Associated Press]
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 18.—Traffic on the Pacific ocean has become so heavy in recent years that steamship companies have found it necessary, for the sake of safety, to "double track" the waterways, according to the United States hydrographic office here. Routes affected by the decision are: Seattle-Yokohama, San Francisco-Honolulu, and Honolulu-Yokohama.

The pilot chart of the North Pacific for March shows well-defined routes which masters of vessels must follow. Of the three routes, on only one, from Seattle to Yokohama, is it required that the vessels "keep to the right." Vessels bound from San Francisco to Honolulu pass to the south of those eastbound, and the same obtains with those on the Honolulu-Yokohama run. The "keep to the right" rule, the hydrographic office explains, cannot be applied at sea as readily as on land, because fogs, prevailing winds, ocean currents and other factors must be taken into consideration.

As yet no necessity has been for planting "cops" on breeches-buoys out in mid-Pacific, but optimistic shipping men believe that this may yet come to pass.

"Double tracking" the steamship lanes of the Atlantic has been in practice for some years. This is the first time, however, that the system has been put into operation on the Pacific.

RECORD SCHOOL
PLANS APPROVED

[By Associated Press]
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., March 28.—Plans have been approved and contracts soon will be awarded for the largest school building program ever undertaken in this city.

The buildings will include three new junior high schools, with a total building cost of $750,000 and total equipment cost of $125,000. The new schools will accommodate 1,700 pupils and possibly 30 additional teachers will be employed. A gymnasium, fully equipped, and with a seating capacity of 1,200 will be added to the original high school at a cost of $100,000 and will include a basketball court 45 by 75 feet, so arranged that it may be converted into two rooms, thus enabling boys and girls to play separately at the same time without interfering with each other. An addition of four rooms to the Columbia grade school will enable full-day sessions for all grades, some of the lower grades heretofore having been able to attend only a half day, owing to congestion.

It might be well for visitors to remember that a welcome quickly wears out.
